Wave, Read My Mind

I see you everyday, but you just walk on by
Its like fireworks that explode inside
Just some simple words, that I wanna say
When I get close I hesitate
Time and time
I search to find
That opening clich'

Chorus:
If you could only read my mind
You'd see that I am struggling
Line by line
I wrote it down a million times but i just can't seem to get it right

Why does my confidence play tricks on me
Its shuts me up so I can't speak
Out of necessity I have to prove
That my telepathy can get through to you
Why
Does it have to be
That words get in the way

Chorus

If you only knew
That I wrote it all for you

Chorus

No I just can't seem to get it right
No I just can't seem to get it right...
