

We Are The Ocean, Save Me! Said The Saviour

This moment will last a lifetime,
you always find the light so well,
I could search forever to see this far,
I guess this is what it feels like to be the ocean.
And we'll sail away from here,
Just hold on my dear.
Shout it loud, let the angels know that we are calling them out.
And don't be surprised if you feel so alive, just hold on tight you'll be fine.
Follow me through the sunset,
lets take this to the clouds.
I'll take your hand and guide your way,
and when you fall, I'll mend your wings.
You are my shooting star that glides across the sky,
(I'm so glad i looked up when i did)
