

Weekend Excursion, Getting By

Caught in the vein headed for the heart of pain memories and tears remain and an old photograph of you and I I know its not much but it gets me by life turns another page but I don't feel lonely cuz I'm numb from pain your voice on the phone don't sound the same I try to sleep late just to pass the day

It's a waste of time so I find a way

To hold you in my dreams
Some times its all I need
Someday you won't be so far from me
Till that day, you'll be the girl of my dreams

Here's to the nights
I thought I'd never miss Smiles that were taken for granted
And the taste of your last kiss

The grief in our eyes
As we tried to hold back our goodbyes Feels like Im ritted inside

But you're my blue skies my perfect little lullaby
If times get rough
All I have to do is try

To hold you in my dreams
Some times its all I need
Someday you won't be so far from me
Till that day, you'll be the girl of my dreams
