Ween, MARBLE TULIP JUICY TREE (II)

[studio version appears on "God Ween Satan: The Oneness"] Great...it would be the greatest thing I don't know you you are, I don't know who you want to be When I carbonate the test tube, then you won't see me I've got a twin cab diesel combo, it takes me where I want to go And all the nuphies are happy, they know of a fungus that grow So when you see Hoecke's mind screw don't come running to me 'Cause I will scream and set aflame marble tulip juicy tree Marble tulip juicy tree -- it's where I want to be When I gnaw on the tulip it'll wish that it was me Every morning I put my shoes on and I think about she Who controls the four seasons inhaling kitties in the see It's like a noodle in a salad -- little birdy wants to be set free-ee I drill the corpse lobe with my mommy -- marble tulip juicy tree So this song's about the loving thing that you are to me Just stay away from my adenoids and marble tulip juicy tree Marble tulip juicy tree -- it's where I want to be When I gnaw on the tulip it'll wish that it was me Look now I hold the world in my hands Whoo, seems like awakened trance Up on the hill, down by the river By the ocean across the field By the word of the Boognish I said, "Lordy, lord, lord, I'm comin' home" In a dream, said he was coming Boognish was risin' Up from the mist..... [more inaudible ranting] Whoo!
