

Ween, Slow Down Boy

When the shutter clicks on the superstar
And he leaves you with the camera
A picture's worth the moment
You both needed something more

Slow down boy, he's breaking your heart
His innocence will tear you apart
His love is young, you don't have to hurry
You've got all the time in the world

No rules when we play the game
Put the winner with the loser
He's stalling at the gate
And you're racing towards the line

Slow down boy, he's breaking your heart
His innocence will tear you apart
His love is young, you don't have to hurry
You've got all the time in the world

I've watched you from the back seat
Crying as he walked away
I see beauty in the future
Lay back and let him blow you away

When you're dancing with disaster
And living on the edge
Let the moment be your master
Don't get so far ahead

Slow down boy, he's breaking your heart
His innocence will tear you apart
His love is young, you don't have to hurry
You've got all the time in the world

Slow down boy, slow down
Let him show you,
Let him blow you away...
