

Weeping Tile, Anyone

I can see it in your eyes
You are still following that same line
It shouldn't come as a surprise
I said my love is kind, but not always that kind

And now it's too late to change fate
But you can't say that I've not tried
'Cause you will never be happy
With this angel of mercy that you've contrived

I gotta handle you carefully
This should never have begun
Throw a light in here
I can't see your face
You could be anyone

Try to be true to a moment
Don't guard anything you say
Try to be true to a moment
And bemoan the day

And now it's too late to change fate
But you can't say that I've not tried
'Cause you will never be happy
With this angel of mercy that you've contrived

I gotta handle you carefully
This should never have begun
Throw a light in here
I can't see your face
You could be anyone

Oh, anyone, anyone
Anyone, anyone
