

West Indian Girl, Blue Wave

Surfing on the bluest wave, I'm ready to go
Reaching for the shiny eye that swims below
Try to catch one, only the best one
Surfing on the bluest wave

Try to catch one, only the best one

Little tiny eyeballs see the places I've gone
They keep pictures of all my old friends, they'll always live on Every summer we come together
Looking for the bluest wave

Try to catch one, only the best one
Try to catch one, you're the best one

And it's coming down, raining like a pulse of light
And were riding on the longest wave tonight
If we ever get there, we'll all get laid tonight
Surfing on the bluest wave

Try to catch one, only the best one
Try to catch one, you're the best one

I'm finally going to make it...my way
