

Westlife, A Fragile Heart

A fragile heart, was broken before
I don't think it could endure
Another pain
But there's a voice from deep inside
Of you
That's calling out to make you realise
That this new bond gives inspiration
To all who feel no love appeal no more
So how can I break this wall around you
That's aiding our hearts to grow in pain

So forget your past, and we can Dream tomorrow
Save our hearts for care and Lovin too
It's hard I know, but oh one things
For sure
Don't go and break this fragile heart

A hurting mind in need of emotion

I don't think I could endure
Another pain
But baby in you, I've found affection
Affection I have never felt before

So don't let your past
Destroy what comes tomorrow
Don't go and break my fragile heart

With all this fire that burns
Between us
There's so much to lose, yet so much
More to gain
And if I could choose the world
Around me
The world to choose, would all
Revolve around you
So help me complete the game
Inside me
And help to mend my fragile heart
