

Westlife, Alone Together

Tell me all the ways your heart can break
So I never make the same mistakes
I don't wanna hear your silence

Show me all the ways to let you down
So I never let you hit the ground
I don't wanna see you crying

I've been there, there before
Heart a war, war with me and myself

You've been down , down that road
Know you know, you don't need nobody else

(Cause') I'm alone , you're alone, it's whatever
We should be, we should be alone together
No it don't need to be, be forever
But we should be alone together

I'm alone , you're alone, it's whatever
We should be, we should be alone together
No it don't need to be, be forever
But we should be alone together

Take me to the corners of your mind
So I get a chance to see behind
All that artificial smiling'

I know what it's like to come undone
And feel so far from everyone
I won't leave you on that island

I've been there, there before
Heart a war, war with me and myself

You've been down, down that road
Know you know, you don't need nobody else

(Cause') I'm alone, you're alone, it's whatever
We should be, we should be alone together
No it don't need to be, be forever
But we should be alone together

I'm alone, you're alone, it's whatever
We should be, we should be alone together
No it don't need to be, be forever
But we should be alone together

I wanna know what you think what you feel
Stay up and stare at the ceiling
Let's lie awake for a little
Meet you love in the middle
Don't have to take your distance
Have something that's worth missing

(Cause') I'm alone, you're alone, it's whatever
We should be, we should be alone together
No it don't need to be, be forever
But we should be alone together

(Cause') I'm alone, you're alone, it's whatever
We should be, we should be alone together
No it don't need to be, be forever
But we should be alone together
