

Westlife, I Promise You That

There's no reason you should feel like this I know that I am the only one to blame
I feel your agony
its hidden in your kiss

I don't believe that things are said and done I only hope there's still time to be the one we can work it out If only you let me, oh

whatever you say
whatever you do
there will be good times waiting for you
whatever you hear
I won't disappear
I promise you that I promise you that

I never said that I could change the world
But if you give me the chance that I deserve
I know that in you heart
You can forgive me, oh

Whatever you say
Whatever you do
There will be good times waiting for you
whatever you hear
I won't disappear
I promise you that I promise you that

We had times only a fool could miss Still there is time to turn it around Im not saying it's an easy thing
Let me show you
I promise you that
Oh, yeah

Whatever, wherever
There will be good times waiting for you
whatever you hear, I won't disappear

Whatever you say
Whatever you do
There will be good times waiting for you
Whatever you hear, I won't disappear
I promise you that I promise you that.

whatever you hear
I won't disappear
I promise you that I promise you that