

Whatever It Takes, Stars And Skulls been apart for some time and still all those lies those are the first, yeah, foremost things that come to our minds after all the fake smiles and the error and trial were having the time I wished we had had those years ago

(Chorus)
stars light the night
where you sat and watched me die
watched my heart beat losing life
and in the morning you'll sing goodbye
stars light the night
where my skull and cross bones lie

(Bridge)
the fleecy cloud may kiss the sky the flower kiss the butterfly the foaming beer may kiss the glass but you my friend can kiss my...
"farewell"
