

Wheat, These Are Things

leave but come home soon and can you get me something and i don't usually break many promises i make it's just sometimes i could use a little shove these are things i did for my love hey kid you go wrong more times than you thought you could be running on streaks of no money i'll be too far to catch you up if you should need because your heart's breaking your mouth's shaking your eyes are full and high for now i've got to look out for me

(wasted) hey kid look around is your look in the mirror clearer than it use to be still running on streaks of no money no sleep and no friends to get you off it if you should need

and the handshake was a mistake when you wished you said goodbye

and life sure passes you by when you're living in living rooms maybe you should find a place of your own maybe find another place

lost your last name missed your last train and your rides just said goodbye
for now i've got to look out for me grown-ups sometimes get their fill of sleeping pills and end up on the brink after drinking all night rental cars and topless bars sit underneath the radar just a bit and to make it all right so make it all right make it all right it's bearable so make it all right make it all right it's bearable
