

Whitehouse, I Wonder Where You Are Tonight

Whitehouse

I wonder where you are tonight

I wonder where you are tonight
What shadows you're embracing
The deals you closed tonight
To reach the morning light

I wonder where you are tonight baby
And all the promises you made
Since you've been gone I know
That you could never stay

Tell me have you left the darkness
Or do you keep on drifting hopelessly in gloom
Can you always drown your sadness
In the bottle on the way to your bedroom
Now don't let him slip away from you tonight
Hold him long and hold him tight
It's life we seek

I wonder where you are tonight
While I sit reminiscing
Do you wish for the light
The warmth that you've been missing
I wonder where you are tonight now baby
I wonder if you'll make it home
Gathering tears so long
For all the pain you've sown

Tell have you left the darkness
Or do you keep on drifting hopelessly in gloom
Can you always drown your sadness
In the bottle on the way to your bedroom
Now don't let him slip away from you tonight
Hold him long and hold him tight
It's life we seek
