

Why Don't We & Macklemore, I Don't Belong In T

some guy skipped in front of me
can't believe I paid an entry fee and I don't even got the energy to smile for a selfie and I know that I should go home but, I'm still standing here so I guess one more for the road I wanna raise a toast so this one's for the smart players dudes wearing shades

in the darkness
our hats off to the DJ Same song twice in an evening

save me, can't take it
I don't belong in this club
once dance, no chance
cause I'm feeling awkward as I was waiting in line for an hour
just to get in now
wanna get out cause
I'm cheated can't fake it
I don't belong in this club, no

hopped out of the Uber I was feeling myself had to polo with the bolo with some eel on the belt walked up to the bouncer whole squad on stealth
I'm Macklemore
he said Mcklo, who?
it's me
you gotta wait
live everybody else shoulda stayed on the sofa forgot, I hate being social and I miss my ex-girl (This Drake song making me 'emotional Girl, you hurt my feelings) I'm feeling awkward as hell
I only came here to dance
The DJ ain't playing the cuts
And what do I do with my hands?
It's awkward
Roll with the punches and hold my Red Bull up And I toast the nights like this that I probably won't remember much 'Bout to pull that Irish goodbye, grab my stuff, 'bout to cut
And the DJ yells, "Macklemore in the house tonight" Ah, fuck

and to the think that I've waited all week to get someone's drink spilled over me I don't care if the Uber's one surge no I don't, no

I'd do anything to get out of this club
