

Why Store, Surround Me

Let this go, my spiritual boundries
Take me to where I should be
Slip into this unwanted torture
There are so many things you can see
Come sit and surround me
And I will set you free, yeah
Come sit and surround me
Well, I'm gonna show you how to believe
Love the woes of man
They seem to shine so bright
The temptress hangs her weary glance
While the morning calls to the night
The thought to break this mighty journey
So simple are the few
The come before this path of worry
What should they do?
Come sit and surround me
And I will set you free, yeah
Come sit and surround me
Well, I'm gonna show you how to believe
Come sit and surround me
And I will set you free
Come sit and surround me, yeah
