

Wide Mouth Mason, Wide Eyed

If you knew that it may end up this way why are you frozen with fear?
If you weren't so afraid I might have stayed much more sincere
Wide eyed watch your vanity taking everything away from you
Why does notoreity make the wall around your door see through?

If I maybe said something, your head would be at ease?
If that were the case could your erase all you've preconceived?
Who made you think yours is better than everyone else's?
