

Wilburn Brothers, I Loved You Then

I cannot say I love you now since you have broken every vow
My love for you has died somehow but I loved you then
Once your eyes for me did shine and your lips touched only mine
And your voice was sweet and kind how I loved you then
I loved you when those arms of yours embraced me only
And I cared when that part of yours for me grew lonely
But I changed when you changed yourself and threw those arms round someone else
Sorry when no love is left but I loved you then

( ac.guitar )

And I cared when that part of yours for me grew lonely
It's funny I don't miss the touch of one I loved so very much
Now things you do don't make me hurt but I loved you then
