

Wilburn Brothers, Much Too Often

Much too often much too often I walked the floor and worried over you
You sweet talked me with pretty lies but good gal I'm gettin' wise
Much too often you left me sad and blue
Much too often much too often you've done things you know you shouldn't do
You've broke my heart you've broke your vows there's no used to come back now
Much too often I found you were untrue
I hate to turn my back on you hate to see you go
I can't believe I'll love again cause I once loved you so
Much too often much too often I'd forgive you and we'd start anew
But those days are over now I learn to live again somehow
Much too often you've cheated now we're through (fiddle - guitar - piano)
Much too often much too often...
