

Windsor For The Derby, Logic And Surprise

<decline to recline a kinder proposition you will never find logic and surprise
battle one another in your eyes all you love goes straight to your head all you love slips through your hands a life fortified

with regret a lie you can never hide you're there paralyzed dropped into the sea and paralyzed
all you love slips through your hands
