

Wings Of Scarlet, Set The Air Afire

Today is the last day from here on out,
we count our blessings from here on out,
this shattering to make my world come to an end.

When the bleeding stops for you,
I won't be here to help you through.

If we drown tonight we're better off.
To hold this breath would kill us all.

Crushing fates we'll never learn,
hearts will break nevermore,
all my broken dreams
remembering all that you said.
