

Witchery, The Devil And The Damage Done

say that you love me you fool call me the devil its true if you sell me your soul i win if you live in the dark you sin onward with the wolf you run

the devil and the damage done damage done

bring me your children they'll burn never look back never turn reach out and touch me you'll see to run with the wolves you're free

who are you to flee the sun

its time go welcome to my home you scream my name i'll dress you up in flames you sold your soul
this is what you bought i hope you like it 'cause i've heard its rather hot

who are you to flee the sun

if you sell me your soul if you live in the dark
