

Wolf, I Will Kill Again

Nothing but time is what I kill these days
In a concrete cell just big enough for a bed
The walls have scratch marks, that's how I sharpen my nails
And I don't need a view I have memories instead

Oh no, can't you see even though imprisoned
I will always be there for you, to haunt you in your dreams

Don't release me, I'd kill again
Don't make a mistake and take my shadow for a friend
Never release the beast, or feed the flame
It wouldn't take long until I killed

As days turn to years, while my hair turns gray
You will never forget me and I haven't forgotten you
I vividly remember your eye reflected on my blade
Night and day in my dreams I finish what I started to do

You know these walls can never keep me inside
I will always be there for you, to haunt you in your dreams

Don't release me, I'd kill again
Don't make a mistake and take my shadow for a friend
Never release the beast, or feed the flame
It wouldn't take long until I killed

I can never see the light again
That's OK; you're always before my eyes
In our fantasies united again
Where I make sweet love to you with my knife

There was nobody like you among all the others
I enjoyed you more which is why I kept you alive
It is my satisfaction to be the main attraction
And to know that you'll remember me 'til you die

I know you know, but they can't understand it
I will always be there for you, to haunt you in your dreams

Don't release me, I'd kill again
Don't make a mistake and take my shadow for a friend
Never release the beast, or feed the flame
Run for your life when you hear my footsteps in the rain

Don't release me, I'm insane
It wouldn't take long until I killed

Once again
I just can't wait
To kill again
