

Wolftron, Crystal Skulls

Sink to me, my love to be
We're growing old alone
Stand against the starry fence
That keeps us from your home
You and I, we're lost in time tonight
Maybe in another life
We will find our way back

Visions of your face
Are pumping through my veins
Every time I try to stand

Can't see what is good, what is good
In this place without you
Did you ever find the love
That you were searching for?
In all the places I can't understand

Keep me up I can't see you
Bring me down to the ground
Keep me up I can't see you
Bring me down to the ground
