

Wonderwall, Little Long Time

Little Long Time

At breakfast tea some toast and eggs

The T.V.'s on

I'm lying in bed

My feet are cold and my cheeks are red

I pet my real fat cat

Nobody knows my secret dreams

Nobody knows why I can sleep

But if you've ever felt before

Like I feel now you'll know much more

Chorus:

A little long time I watched T.V.

A little long time I drank my tea

A little long time I tapped my foot

But all the while I thought of you

The spinach tastes like raspberry jelly

Your snore sounds like the buzz of bees

The rain is like the children laughter

And every day is like a dream

Your eyes are like a silver river

Your hands are strong like a lion's paws

With your head in my lap I feel like a Queen

Chorus:

Should a girl wait for better times

When the rain is tellin' tales

Should a girl search some other places

When the sun shines in her heart

Chorus

I discovered you like Columbus America

I sank my treasure in the sea

I feel like the highest leaf

Of the highest tree

I feel like

I feel like a rolling stone

That nobody can stop

But if you've ever felt before

Like I feel now you'll know much more

Chorus
