

World War Four, Face

Been a long time coming crawling up from the gutter

It was just this morning
I saw you watch me suffer.

Beneath this neat facade down beneath the remains

I lay covered in hurt you denied any blame

But now that I'm here
I'm gonna blow you away

I will cherish your tears
and laugh in your face

Now theres no need to cry when theres nothing I care for

And a waste of my time's as good a reason to die for

But now that I'm here
I'm gonna blow you away

I will cherish your tears
and laugh in your face

In your face

But now that I'm here
I'm gonna blow you away

I will cherish your tears
and laugh in your face

But now that I'm here
I'm gonna blow you away

I will cherish your fear
and laugh in your face
