

World War Four, Pet Hate

Here is everything I ever wanted,
Here is everything I'd ever need I know my pet hate wants to destroy me, I know my pet hate is

You don't wanna live that way.
Bleed before you grow
You know you don't want to stay.
You don't wanna go

And here goes everything
I'd ever wanted,
There goes everything
I had ever dreamed Deep down I'm the beast inside me.
I know my pet hate is me.

It's a popular misconception that man has two distinctly different sides.
The dichotomy of good and evil that is inherent to all is widely accepted.
But in reality,
we are much more complex
if you look deep inside yourself long enough you will see not just good and evil, but a myriad of evils and good.
Many beasts and many evils make up us all.
Some we control,
some control us
