

Wynn Stewart, Money Talks

I've lost you cause I can't afford your love
And money that's what he's always had more of
He's buying you how it's costing me
I thought the best things of life are always free

But money talks oh yes money talks
Even louder than a little golden band
Money talks oh yes how money talks
And it's the only language you'll ever understand
(guitar - steel)

Well how many kisses does a dollar buy
Your promises they must be twice as high
Someday you'll try to buy a love that's true
And when your money's gone your love will be gone too

Cause money talks oh yes money talks...
