

Xavier Rudd, Come Back

i know my answers often left you feeling like you were hanging out to dry i know my reasons have left you wondering why and I've had these questions looming over me
since the day you took flight but if you come back
there will be good times

i see your face when I'm staring out the window beaming down in the moonlight the winter is colder without you by my side all i have is this photo of your smile to remind of my wrongs and my rights
but if you come back
