

Xiu Xiu, The Jim Yoshii Pile-Up - Xmas Card

You thought I was confused. I thought it was strange that you had it all figured out.

You had it all wrong. I've been putting you off for months now.

Your letter I never replied to, you raise the alarm. You call the police.

I've been the supporting role, it's clear. But now I'm stealing scenes and spilling beer. It's just one less

I fold my newspaper in half. It's better left unread I say, the propagandists hard at play.

I don't think it's sad, I don't think it's anything that I promised to and I never do.

I've been the supporting role, it's clear. But now I'm stealing scenes and spilling beer. It's one less

One less Christmas card this year.

So a Merry Goodbye from me to you. And a Happy Cram It the whole year through.

If I ever walk away, will you take me by the hair and remember I said I loved you once?
