

Y'AKOTO, Baby Blues (Babyblues)

The love of my life pushed me down to valley
Disappeared an every showed up again
Now he?s in love with a very old lady
A woman who?s ten years older than me
What curse to kill one drink after the other
I?ll be sure I will never recovered

She?s probably everything I never was
A rich pretty face and very mature
I hope he?s happy with his brand new life
She hates me to death, what a () surprise

But she shouldn?t hate me she should pity me
?cause she took away the best part of my existence
The man I love in the arms of a very old lady
A woman who?s ten years older than me

She?s probably everything I never was
A rich pretty face and very mature
And as a drama self to tats the dear
A question to use of all these years

She left me hanging so you let go of my wrist
I saw them walking down the street and back when they kissed
And now my dead body is doing the best again
Gonna find myself a very old man

She?s probably everything I never was
A rich pretty face and very mature
I hope he?s happy with his brand new life
She hates me to death, what a () surprise

She?s probably everything I never would be
A rich pretty face and ready for maternity
I hope he?s happy with his brand new life
She hates me to death, what a () surprise
