

Yesterdays Hero, Fake

Now I see that you are no good for me,
You led me on, took my heart and now you're gone.
I can't believe,
I can't conceive the way you stabbed me in the back and made me bleed.
Now I see your personality.
It was never like the way you made it out to be.
And I can't stop the way I feel even if it's wrong,
I don't care if it's not real, I just cannot move on.
What's going through your brain, it's making me insane.
Why do you do the things you.
Why do you take, take and take and take and never give in this relationship.
Now you're gone, that's why I sing this song,
to sing about what you're missing out.
You used to say it would be okay, but then you stepped on me and ran away.
