

Yngwie Malmsteen, As Above, So Below

Now your ships are burned
and the evil has returned
It will creep upon you
There's nothing to do
It will rip up your mind
and death you will find Life is just a game
and death is just the same Within the bloodstained walls
In the center of your brain Demons without mercy
Driving you insane
It will rip up your mind
and death you will find
Life is just a game
and death is just the same
Now your ships are burned
and the evil has returned
It will creep upon you
There's nothing to do
and death you will find
Life is just a game
and death is just the same
When the orders are obeyed and you have been slayed You're lying on the ground Without making a sound
As your soul fades away
You can hear someone say Ring the dooms day bell Turn the world into hell!
