Yngwie Malmsteen, I'd Die Without You

Enough is enough I'm nobody's fool I won't take no more Oh now I'm out the door I won't live by anyone's rules I feel it's safe to say I'm on my own It's just another lesson learned No love lost Life's like gettin' blood from a stone We all live by cards that were dealt I don't want no promises, don't want no lies Go sell them to sombody else I think it's safe to say, I'm on my own It's just another lesson learned No love lost (We've had enough, can't take no more)
