Yo La Tengo, Double Dare

I, I should know You shouldn't have to tell me Sometimes it's the way we feel or the way we feel we feelpretty bad

In a double dare He's got wandering eyes And I see 'em look at you looking straight at youbut I know where they are

I'll walk you home You take as long as it takes The sun in the morning sky, in the morning sky we'll know where we are We'll know where we are
