

You're Pretty, Letting Go

Alone, I sit and cower
Sad days
They all amount
I don't think that you'll understand
Just hear me out
Let me
Let me be

Do you believe that time will wait for you?
Can you tell me there's something I can do?

I've had too much to drink
And now it's making me think
That I'm too strong to fake it
So I'll move on
And turn away
Turn away

Do you believe that time will wait for you?
Can you tell me there's something I can do?

I stand here looking by
Too afraid to turn around
And face what lies behind me
And too afraid of letting go

Letting go
And falling in
And I don't care
I'm finally jumping
