

Youth Brigade, What Are You Fighting For

you say you fight for freedom you say you fight for peace the army's there when we nee'em for our security i say you fight to kill i say you fight from hate you fight because your stupid seek glory in this state know your enemy, what are you fighting for there's a skinhead, there's a punk
there's an oi boy, there's a jerk try to be different yet you end up the same keep on fighting things will never change is that the way because it had to be or is it just your fuckin' mentality do you hate them for the color of their skin or perhaps the country that thy were born in descriminate, annihilate is this the virtue of a rational man?
fight for life,
fight for your rights be an individual never lose sight knowledge is the way to see ignorance is your enemy
