

Youth Of Today, Shout It

Not on this stage to take up space i'm here to communicate face to face i'll hold my head up high and... shout it!
look me in the eye and ... shout it!
hold my head up high... shout it !
criticized for speaking out i guess you don't know what were about i'll hold my head up high and... shout it
look you in the eyes and... shout it!
hold my head up high... shout it !
look you in the eyes and shout it!
we're just some friends who want to be heard through our music,
we'll spread our word
trying our best to figure what life is about seeing the good makes me want to shout! shout it!
there's nthing wrong
with saying my part the message i cry is from the heart won't change my ideas just to please you you've built the walls, we're breaking through!
