

Zara Larsson, Venus

Started out on the horizon
Then it grew to be a siren
I'm a fire and I'm coming undone
It's so beautiful now I'm crying

Thought that love was made for someone else, but you have changed me
My body and my mind agree that you have rearranged me

Oh Venus
Like a supernova, I can't stop this overwhelming feeling
You got me falling in love and everybody here can see us
My world is upside down
Oh Venus
You turn my heart around

I couldn't love 'til you arrived
Now I'm living with the bluer skies
I shouldn't laugh, shouldn't be surprised
It's what you do, and you do it right

I thought that love was made for someone else, but you have changed me
My body and my mind agree that you have rearranged me

Oh Venus
Like a supernova, I can't stop this overwhelming feeling
Got me falling in love and everybody here can see us
My world is upside down
Oh Venus
You turn my heart around

Venus, my Venus, my
Venus, my Venus, Venus

Now I understand what it is to fly
To dive in deep with someone for more than just a night
Now I understand what love songs really mean
Two bodies into one
Two minds into a dream

Oh Venus
Like a supernova, I can't stop this overwhelming feeling
You got me falling in love and everybody here can see us
My world is upside down
Oh Venus, mm-mm
You turn my heart around

Venus
Like a supernova, I can't stop this overwhelming feeling
Got me falling in love and everybody here can see us
My world is upside down
Oh Venus
You turn my heart around
