

Zetta Bytes, When The Rain Falls

Oh oo oo
I don't understand
This should be so easy
To just reach out my hand
And know the world is free
But nothing's, as it seems
I can tell you freely
Touching's not the only way to feel

When the rain falls
It's like heaven's crying
When the name's all
The difference that there is
Cause tears are
The same when they are trying to grow something good
Out of all the pain
There's no difference between the teardrops and the rain.

I know you proudly say
That I'm just talking crazy
To think of life that way
Means that I'm confused
Does happy end this sad
But maybe it's just maybe
The sadness can make the happiness more true

When the rain falls
It's like heaven's crying
When the name's all
The difference that there is
Cause tears are
The same when they are trying to grow something good
Out of all the pain
There's no difference between the teardrops and the rain.

Because I know they're both so necessary
I don't let it bother me at all

When the rain falls
It's like heaven's crying
When the name's all
The difference that there is
Cause tears are
The same when they are trying to grow something good
Out of all the pain
There's no difference between the teardrops and the rain.
