

Zofia Nowakowska, The right to love

You must be made of stone
To push away
Those poison arrows
Its easy to judge and point
Its him
Its him
Its him
Who is wrong
You can be free again
rest in the shadow
trust in tomorrow
They want to steal your soul
Away
Away
Away
You have the right
To dream and to give
You have the right
To love and to live
You have the right
To feel and to choose
This is your chance
To win or to lose
There are self righteous
Just remember every good deed you do
Maybe used against your person
They are self righteous
Dont surrender all the sweet words you say
They'll try to mix with poison
To break your image
Learn to keep the faith child
May the truth become your only friend and partner
This is your answer
Be the one to understand the world in all its glory
Thats where love lives
Find truth, thats where love is
You have the right
To dream and to give
You have the right
To love and to live
You have the right
To feel and to choose
This is your chance
To win or to lose
Dont be afraid to speak
Bones will be broken
But words never should be
No one can stop you now
To fly
To fly
So fly
She will find you
Pick up and guide you
The only true love
Deep inside you
The only reason
You can be sure
The only answer
The only vision
You must remember
You have to trust her
Be her survivor
Shes everywhere
Shes made in heaven

And all that she wants
Is you and your heart child
You and your heart
You have the right
To dream and to give
You have the right
To love and to live
You have the right
To feel and to choose
This is your chance
To win or to lose
