Zucchero, World

World, forgotten child forsaken dream In silence grieves World, a mourning sky a weeping sea Abonded lies Lost is the cadence of the heart, Broken strings, a promise torn apart Lost is the music of the soul, Dying echo, a story yet untold. World, forgotten words forsaken love In silence yearns World, a whispered song a gentle sign Discarded burns Lost is the memory of time, Broken wires, a vision out of line Lost is the chorus of life, Fading air borne away to die World, forgotten faith forsaken hope In silence fails World, a murmured wish a uttered cry Rejected calls World, clinging to the sun World, a promise yet to come World, clutching at a dream Of the few who rise to redeem World...