

100th And May, Step Towards You

When you come around
You make me feel so proud
Isn't it common sense
When you feel like this
I would dance with you
Even if there was no song
We could get caught if we want
But playing games is just more fun
So I will
I will step towards you tonight
And I will
I will look into your eyes
Just to find out if there's life still left in this heart
Yea it beats but I just think that it's not
Too many times have I failed to win
Just to prove I know where to begin
And you swear you're coming back around
She thinks that in the end
She'll become what she's not
And I can't help but laugh
Cause I know where she is and where I'm at
