

12012, Butterfly (English Version)

Don't go, don't go I love you so much
Look at the me who you still don't know I want to be with you now
How much do I have to be hurt for this pain to disappear?
My heart has been crying The gloom and rain of May
On the last train I draw a spiral going home in the hazy moonlight
I've got to hurry I've got to hurry I really can't bear this
Don't go, don't go I love you so much
Look at the me who you still don't know
Don't cry, don't cry What is the reason for your tears?
Look at your me who you don't know
A wind is blowing inside my heart The wind of this instant is blowing
It goes "hyululi la la la hyululi la la la la" in solitude
How many times have I made you cry How long have you kept on waiting
All of the countless memories And your smile
Don't go, don't go I love you so much
Look at the me who you still don't know
Don't cry, don't cry What is the reason for your tears?
Look at your me who you don't know
Because I want to be with you now
Don't go, don't go I love you so much
Look at the me who you still don't know
Those ones I love, those ones I love just like those flowers, with this love for eternity
I want to send it to every unadorned day
Swaying, swaying close together in the sunlight
I want to send it to every unchanging day
Our love
