

12012, Cyclone (English Version)

Listen, a heartless shout
Listen a heartless cry
Listen, a heartless world [2 times]
I don't even know your fragrance
I don't even know your actions
All of my memories have been erased
I don't even know what it means to start over
I don't even know what it means to survive
If I think, who did I fall in love with?
In the passing season, in the current of cycling time
Everything gets swallowed up
I'll struggle on towards where you are
The day which where spent in conflict and even the nights
When I crumbled in sorrow have begun to change into the provisions
That keep me alive
Listen, a heartless shout
Listen a heartless cry
Listen, a heartless world
I don't even know your whereabouts
I don't even know your smile
It's all been drained into a swirl of anxiety
The scars on my heart won't heal
And the tears of my heart won't stop
It seem I'll go mad, trapped in solitud
As though the season we fell in love
Just like the lovers of that one time, Everything is forgotten
Without fail I'll come to be with you
The days which where spent in hatred and the nights
When I sufferd in despair
They've changed into the provisions which compose me
At the promised place,
Right now I'm waiting at a distance,
Looking everywhere for you
But you won't appear
Someone please answer me
I don't even know your fregrance
I don't even know your actions
All of my memories have been erased
I don't even know what it means to start over
I don't even know what it means to survive
If I think, who did I fall in loved with?
As though the season we fell in love
Just like the lovers of that one time
Everything will be lost
Everything is forgotten
Without fall I'll come to be with you
"Is my future self really laughing right now?"
The me who exist now say to myself
It's the promised time,
Isn't it, Even though right now
I'm here looking for you
You aren't anywhere
Why not? Someone please answer me
Listen, a heartless shout.
Listen, a heartless cry.
Listen, a heartless world. [2 times]
