

1349, Legion

Like a ghost I wander Withdrawn from reality becoming a misanthrope summoning spirits to me fighting humanity no need to watch my back for they are fighting with me

[Chorus:]

We march into war slaughtering mankind
If you try to stop us we will give you hell (from which we came) join us if you dare fight us if you can Choose sides,
or escape to survive Blood red is the sky
Blood red is the earth Blood red are the rivers and mountains that we pass Black smoke fills the air from the corpse pyres around burning mankind and have it buried underground

[Chorus:]

Their funeral pyres, lighting the earth Smoke blots out the sun, creating eternal night gone is humanity, trampled to the ground suffocated by the ashes, utopia of thy design Lend us your sword and ours will be yours Give us your strength and receive it thousand fold
The demon army marching over forth fulfilling the vision an untained world Don't oppose us... resistance is futile we annihilate all enemy forces Nobody can stop us now defeat of mankind, a victory of misanthropy