

1969, Save A Place

When the cloud over your mind
Finally breaks and rains to remind
You of me covering you
That's when the light comes crashing through
So I'll keep away and save a place for you
And I'll only make the same mistakes as you
When you stop hitting the wall
It's not the plaster that ruined this hall
When all the blood all over your fingers is dried up
The pain will still linger
So I'll keep away and save a place for you
And I'll only make the same mistakes as you
Scream until you smile
But I'm the only one who hears
When you wake up to the sound
Of a thousand voices around
Can you hear the rattle of words
That only takes a heart to be heard
