

22-20s, Friends

trying to find where trouble ends I've found out it's in your friends people looking for success think it comes in cash and Phecks

I know dove don't grow on leaves trusting something comes with apease women move like crumbs and eggs trying to find someone to blame even you, you do it too you just don't see the harm you do

trying to find where trouble ends
I've found out it's in your friends ambitions spreading like disease affects the way that people see even you, you change the ways you just don't seem to care these days

trying to find where trouble ends
I've found out it's in your friends I've done things I shouldn't do taken things to get me through

I've been sinking in the sand always had a helping hand
trying to find where trouble ends
I've found out it's in your friends