

3 Doors Down, So I Need You

If you could step into my head, tell
Me would you still know me
If you woke up in my bed,
Tell me then would you hold me
Or would you simply let it lie,
Leaving me to wonder why
I cant get you out of this head
I call mine
And I will say
Oh no I cant let you go,
My little girl
Because youre holding up my world,
So I need you
Your imitation of my walk
And the perfect way you talk
Its just a couple of the million things
That I love about you
So I need you
So I need you
So I need you
So I need you
And if I jumped off the Brooklyn Bridge,
Tell me would you still follow me
And if I made you mad today,
Tell me would you love me tomorrow?
Please
Or would you say that you dont care,
And then leave me standing here
Like the fool who is drowning in despair
And screamin
Oh no I cant let you go,
My little girl
Because youre holding up my world,
So I need you
Your imitation of my walk
And the perfect way you talk
Its just a couple of the million
Things that I love about you
So I need you
So I need you
So I need you
So I need you
Im on my own
Im on my own
Im on my own
Oh no I cant let you go,
My little girl
Because youre holding up my world,
So I need you
That I love about you
So I need you
So I need you
So I need you
So I need you!
