

5 Days Ahead, Valentine

You say those words to me, but do you know what they mean? or is it just because? yesterday you were normal, today youre oh so happy. what the hell is going on? you tell me this is a special day and I dont really care. you want me to tell you everything. theres a secret I gotta share. I dont wanna be your valentine. Id rather bleed until I die. I dont care if you cry or not. cause Ill still be the same. why cant you understand? I dont wanna be your valentine. it makes no sense to tell someone you love them just because its valentines day. Id rather hang out with my friends and bomb couples with chiclets til they ran away. you tell me this is a special day and I dont really care. you want me to tell you everything. theres a secret I gotta share. call me anti-love. (I wont be there to find.) call me a stupid jerk. (dont even waste your time to try and figure out what you can do to change my mind.) try everything you can. its never gonna work. you can kiss me under the stars. say Im always in your heart. its not gonna change a single thing. you can kiss me under the stars. say Im always in your heart. youll still hear me say I dont wanna be your valentine...
