

50 Cent, Going Home

I've had my troubles and i've had my trials, sometimes i wondered if I would make it one more mile but he left a promise and i believe oh why should i worry with the sinful world im getting ready to leave.
Ch-He's coming back, and i'm going home, soon im gonna see the Face of the one ive waited for so long one of these mornings you look for me and ill be gone, cause hes coming back, and im going home.
2- The coming of jesus would not be so dear, if i knew that when he came back i would have to stay down here oh but he is preparing a mansion just for me and i am gonna live in that heavenly home through out eternity
